"This is a complex, noteworthy Sauvignon Blanc to drink over the next several years."

2014 CHARDONNAY
ANTONIO MOUNTAIN

90 | The Wine Advocate, Robert Parker, March 2016

"The 2014 Chardonnay Antonio Mountain Vineyard exhibits a pleasant pear-infused and honeysuckle-scented nose, medium to full body, good acidity, a discreet use of oak (about 60%) and a long finish. This is another classic Burgundian-styled Chardonnay to drink over the next 4-5 years."

2013 PINOT NOIR
BALISTRERI FMLY VNYRD, FREESTONE VIEW BLOCK

90 | The Wine Advocate, Robert Parker, March 2016

"...displays beautiful black raspberry and blackcurrant fruit, some baking spices, allspice, a touch of subtle oak, and a long, heady, rich finish. This seems to be the most flavorful, densest and riches of all these Sonoma Coast Vineyard Pinot Noirs. Drink it over the next decade."

2013 PINOT NOIR
BODEGA RIDGE BLOCK

87 | The Wine Advocate, Robert Parker, March 2016

"The 2013 Pinot Noir Bodega Ridge Block (from Dijon clones 115, 667 and 777) offers slightly more pomegranate and red current, higher acid, and medium body in an attractive Côte de Beaune-like style. Drink it over the next 7-8 years."

2013 PINOT NOIR
KOOS FAMILY VINEYARD

90 | The Wine Advocate, Robert Parker, March 2016

"... the 2013 Pinot Noir Koos Family Vineyard is a product of Dijon clones 115 and 667. Dark ruby/ purple with notes of blackcurrants and black cherries as well as a touch of forest floor, this dark fruited Côte de Nuits style, medium to full-bodied Pinot Noir should drink nicely for another decade."
