2013

The 2013 Merlot, 81% Merlot and the rest Cabernet Sauvignon and Petit Verdot, has a saturated dark color, but seems narrowly constructed and not very charming, even for a 2013. It's a big wine but burly and disjointed. Drink it over the next 7-8 years. - R.P.

The 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon, 78% Cabernet Sauvignon, 16% Merlot and 6% Petit Verdot, shows much sweeter tannins, a dense purple color, loads of crème de cassis and vanilla, a medium to full body, attractive opulence, purity and length. This is outstanding Cabernet Sauvignon to drink over the next 12-15 years. - R.P.

The 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon, 91% Cabernet Sauvignon, 6% Merlot and 3% Petite Verdot, is a round, juicy, slightly earthier style of wine with a medium to full body, dense ruby/purple color, spice box, blackcurrants and loamy soil undertones in a full-bodied, rich concentrated and well-crafted style. A very fruity style, yet this is not overdone as it also offers form and tension. Blackberry and currant character. Medium body and a fresh finish. Turns soft and fruity. Drink or hold. - J.S.
